

Northeastern Wisconsin Master Gardeners

FIND YOUR NICHE AND GROW

January 6, 2023

Membership news

Where do you shop?

Our Outreach Committee is polling all members to determine your go to businesses for plants, seeds and gardening equipment and supplies. The hope is for our organization to form partnerships with our favorite businesses that can provide discounts for members' and organizational purchases. Click here to answer the survey. Please complete the survey by January 9, 2023.

Reminder to log hours

Don't forget to log your 2022 community service and continuing education hours into ORS by Jan. 9, 2023. Every certified Master Gardener must accrue 24 service hours and 10 continuing education hours in 2022.

Continuing education

Green Bay Botanical Garden blog posts

Our friends at the Green Bay Botanical Garden have highlighted their most popular 2022 blog posts: Tips for Planting Spring Bulbs in the Fall, 7 Edible Plants to Grow in Smaller Living Spaces, Keep It Clean or Not: How to Tidy Up Your Outdoor Spaces & Still Protect Wildlife Habitats, Threats to Monarch Migration, Good Bugs You Need in Your Garden & How to Protect Them. Check them out for continued learning!

"Plant Diagnostics: The Step-by-Step Approach to Identifying Plant Problems"

Offered by the University of Wisconsin, Extension Division. Click here for information about this February 1, 2023-April 30, 2023 online course.

"Prairie Plants for Urban and Suburban Gardens," Neil Diboll, 10 am–Noon, Feb. 18, 2023. The presentation is co-sponsored by Wild Ones, Green Bay Botanical Garden, and Master Gardeners. Click here to register.

Save March 4, 2023 and April 15, 2023 for NEWMG Garden Series; more details to come.

"2023 PDDC Plant Disease Talks," Brian Hudelson, UW-Madison Plant Pathology. There are 12 free talks sponsored throughout 2023. Click here for information about each talk (ZOOM) and the series.

Update from Brown County Seed Library

NEWMG and partnering organizations are moving toward the March 4, 2023 public launch of the Brown County Seed Library. To learn more about the Seed Library, click here. Volunteers are needed to sort and package seeds on January 28 and January 29 at the Brown County Central Library, 515 Pine Street, Green Bay, Lower level. Sign up here to volunteer.

Donation request

Toilet paper tubes are needed for a Master Gardener community service project. Please drop tubes at Melissa Wass' house, 3120 Essen Rd, Green Bay (see silver box in front porch).